Alacra Releases the Periodic Table of Entity and Security Identifiers

New York – September 5, 2012 – Alacra, Inc., a leading provider of business information-based solutions for financial institutions and professional service firms today announced the release of “The Periodic Table of Entity and Security Identifiers.”

“With progress being made on the Global Legal Entity Identifier, we thought it would be helpful to take an inventory of all the entity and security identifiers being used on the Street,” said Steve Goldstein, CEO of Alacra. “Customers come to Alacra to help them with their mapping challenges and this periodic table illustrates the range of identifiers that may need to be mapped at a given firm.”

Entity Identifier Mapping is a key feature of Alacra’s Counterparty Intelligence suite of products which includes Alacra Concordance and Alacra Risk Monitoring. Alacra’s relationship with dozens of financial information publishers has helped it to create the world’s most accurate and comprehensive map of entity identifiers.
